CANADA MAY NOT BE AT IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

CANADA'S SEAT MAY BE VACANT

Mr. King Contemplates Imperial Conference With This Country Not Represented—Difficulties Raised

HE ASKS WHERE MONEY IS TO BE OBTAINED

After He and His Ministers Are Appointed, By-Elections Must Be Held, He Alleges, Before Trip Made

LONDON, Sept. 20.—According to the Ottawa correspondent of The Daily Express, Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, in an interview yesterday declared: "I doubt whether Canada in the unprecedented predicament in which the Government-elect finds itself can be represented at the Imperial Conference at London."

Mr. King is quoted as saying that if he were to form a new Government, he and all his Ministers must be re-elected. "We cannot travel to the Imperial Conference while these by-elections are being held. In the first place, where would the money come from? Secondly, I shall not be really Prime Minister until I am re-elected."

The Premier-elect suggested the possibility of a further postponement of the conference, according to the Canadian correspondent, but was unable to say how long, as it would depend on when Parliament could be assembled and other contingencies. Mr. King added he was most anxious to attend, "but it unfortunately is more than a matter of desire."

Provincial Board Will Settle Oak Bay-City Dispute

THE resolution brought in by the Water Committee recommending that the City-Oak Bay water dispute be referred to the Provincial Water Board for settlement was adopted at last night's meeting of the City Council, and also by the Oak Bay Council, as is mentioned in another section of this issue. The resolution as adopted provides that the Provincial Board shall set the price that Oak Bay is to pay the city for water and that an agreement shall be made on that basis to continue for four years, commencing January 1, 1926.

CITY LANDS SHOW INCREASED SALES

RECEIPTS FOR DEPARTMENT INDICATE STEADY ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE

Total of Lots Disposed of This Year Greatly in Excess of Figure for 1925

An increase of $29,389.42 in shown in the receipts of the City Lands Department for the year ending August 31, as compared with the figure for the previous twelve-month period. This was shown in the statement of receipts and expenditures which was presented to the City Council at its meeting last night. Coupled with this favorable showing in the figure for expenditure, which shows only a slight increase over last year, despite the larger volume of business handled.

For the year ending August 31 the department's receipts totalled $94,742.40, as against $67,432.97 last year. Expenditures this year amounted to $5,384.12 as compared with $5,263.40 last year, a slight increase of $120.72, despite greater volume of business. The balance for 1925 balance in its semi-annual statement of $24,142.18, as compared with only $2,142.18 at the end of the year, an increase of $22,000.

A conception of the activity in real estate in the city is clearly shown in the report on sales of city-owned lands for the year ending August 31. During that period a total of 263 lots were sold for $214,182.18, as compared with only 25 lots last year at an aggregate price of $45,317.33. This gives an increase of 238 lots sold, and $168,864.85 in the total sale price.

The Lands Department, in presenting its report, stated that this year's sale of city-owned lands included that sold at auction, exceeding eight parcels. Ninety per cent of the sales were on auction-sold lands have been paid.

The City Council approved of the sale of three lots to the Empire Realty Company for the sum of $11,100, on terms of one-quarter cash and balance in six monthly payments at six per cent interest. The sale of a lot on Pandora avenue for the sum of $2,500 to Mr. George Bone, of 412 Pandora avenue, was also approved by the Council.

COMPANY STANDS READY TO HELP

Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, Vice-President in Charge of Traffic, Canadian National Railways, Visits

INTRODUCES GENERAL TRAFFIC MANAGER HERE

Discusses Grain and Lumber Facilities at Ogden Point, and Hopes Industry Will Utilize Them

SPEAKING of the proposed elevator at Ogden Point docks and the lumber assembly plant, Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian National Railways, said last evening that the company hoped that industry would take advantage of the facilities which the company was providing. Mr. Dalrymple, during his visit here yesterday with a party of officials, made a thorough inspection of the docks, and in a chat with The Colonist before leaving for the Mainland, remarked that the company had provided the location for the elevator at the docks, and the officials hoped that the commercial phase of the proposal would be worked out. It was practically an identical situation in connection with the lumber assembly wharf. The wharf at Ogden Point had been reorganized, so that the assembly plant could operate, and the work was also progressing in the Point Elliot area. The railway could only go so far, in lumber as in grain, to provide the facilities, and hoped that industry would take advantage of them. It was the company's duty to furnish such facilities, but the grain and lumber must be supplied elsewhere. As a transportation company, the Canadian National was ready to carry all the tonnage which was offered.

Mr. Dalrymple said the company was well satisfied with the freight facilities offered by the company, and with the opening of the Deerholme-Cowichan Bay branch to enable the timber to reach tidewater promptly.

Business Is Better

Generally speaking, the business throughout Canada was good, and freight was offering satisfactorily. In answer to a question, he said that it was expected Sir Henry Thornton would come to the Coast soon, probably within thirty days. The company, Mr. Dalrymple explained, had continued on page 2.

AUSTRALIAN SENATOR MAKES STIR AT DINNER

He Does Not Advise Them to "Think They Are Going to Induce More People to Come"

STONEY, N.W.T., Sept. 20.—At a dinner tendered to the Common wealth Government by the touring parliamentary delegation last night Senator I. Grant, who is deputy leader of the Federal Labor Party, caused a stir when he arose to declare that there would be a sharp conflict of opinion if the visitors thought they were going to induce more people to come to Australia. The Marquis of Salisbury and Hon. Arthur Henderson, as members of the delegation, replied to the Senator's declaration that the aim of the parliamentary delegates was to help and not to hinder the development of the Dominion.

Mr. Henderson declared that if the lands of the British Empire were not developed by whites then British statesmen would be failing in their duty. He said that the British Empire was a trust, and that it was the duty of the British statesmen to see that the trust was properly administered.

Sane Public Opinion Is Greatest Peace Panacea

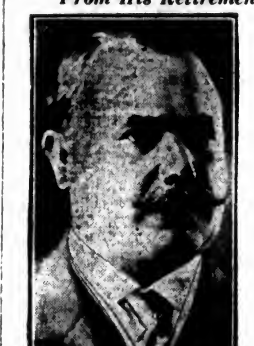

Mr. Justice Macdonald, of B.C. Court of Appeal, Gives Scholarly Address to Knights of Round Table on Causes Which Make for Good Government

PUBLIC opinion! It makes and it order has a prominent part in its formation. Why? because it has to do with orderly thought; with the selection of the good in all views, and the rejection of the bad resulting in the creation of a law, a principle, and finally, a statute which must observe.

All these instrumentalities have a part in the formation. It has this part. A settled conviction or what might be termed—for want of a better phrase—an agreed-upon public sentiment—will now and then be thrown off from this molten mass of conflicting views with which we are inundated, and these settled convictions find their place or orbit in the realm of public consciousness and become part and parcel of the opinion of the day.

Let me illustrate it in another way. Some scientists tell us that our planetary system owes its origin to the phenomena of the earth, once a

It was explained by Alderman E. S. Woodward, chairman of the committee, that this was a case of "spending money to save money." If the road were not resurfaced until next year the cost would be greater. Special rates had been secured on gravel and sand, Mr. Woodward intimated to the Council.

MR. ROBERT ROGERS WISHES CONVENTION

MANITOBA CONSERVATIVE CHIEF THINKS PARTY SHOULD HOLD CONSULTATION

Reorganization Required, He Thinks, and Clear Restatement of Principles and Policy

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—Discussing the defeat of the Conservative party, its cause, and the prospects of a new leader, Hon. Robert Rogers, in a statement issued here today, advocated a Dominion-wide convention "for the widest possible discussion of the question" and "a mobilization of Conservative opinion drawn from every part of Canada."

Reconstruction Advanced

"The Conservative party, in my judgment," says Mr. Rogers, "is today peculiarly situated. If intelligent reconstruction is not undertaken, it may, notwithstanding its splendid traditions, find itself in a position of impotence not unlike that of the Liberal party in England."

The fundamentals of the Conservative party should be firmly re-established and placed beyond the power of any one to meddle with them. The Conservative party's policy on all questions should be definite and positive. It cannot afford to offer a programme of ifs and buts. It is contrary to the traditions of the Conservative party and fatal to its fortunes."

SEAPLANE FLIES ACROSS CANADA

Fliers Arrive in Vancouver From Montreal Without Preliminary Heralding of Achievement Accomplished

NATURE SUPPLIES MANY GOOD LANDING PLACES

Rivers and Lakes Are Followed—Only Along Fraser Canyon Would Failure of Engines Mean Danger

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—For the first time in history a seaplane has flown across North America, and for the first time an airplane of any kind has flown across Canada.

No preliminary announcements or trumpeting of any kind were made. But on Sunday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock a brown seaplane alighted on the waters of English Bay off the Jericho Beach station of the Royal Canadian Air Force, eight days after leaving Montreal.

Two grimy pilots stepped out of the machine, stamped their feet and swung their arms to generate a little warmth in their bodies. It had been cold, two, three and four thousand feet up in the air, and they had just completed a 3,600-mile trip across the continent.

The seaplane in which the trip was made was a Douglas, the same machine as that used by the U.S. aviators on their round-the-world flight.

Squadron Leader Earl Godfrey, R.C.A.F., former officer commanding the Vancouver unit and now stationed at headquarters in Ottawa, was relief pilot and navigator.

Leaving Montreal on Saturday afternoon the plane was flown to Ottawa. On Sunday the journey was resumed but bad weather was encountered and a day's stop was made at a small lake. From there the aviators continued on Monday to Sudbury and thence to Sioux Lookout.

Facilities of the Royal Canadian Air Force were used all along the route and every courtesy was extended to the cross-country fliers.

Sioux Lookout, the seaplane flew on to Lac de Bonnet, near Winnipeg, and from Winnipeg north to The Pas, following the beautiful waterways of the Manitoba Lakes.

The next stop was at Prince Albert and from there the Saskatchewan River was followed to the Wabamun Lake, near Edmonton.

From Edmonton the flight over the mountains and through Yellowhead Pass, down to Vancouver proved most dangerous. Fewer lakes in this leg of the journey provide sanctuary in case of trouble, and had anything gone wrong in passing through the Coast Range, a crash was imminent.

This trip, 700 miles, was the longest single hop on the flight and took seven hours and twenty minutes. In this time the plane climbed from 2,381 feet, altitude to 3,311 Yellowhead Pass and then down to sea level.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE WORKS WELL IN ARCTIC

Conversation Carried on Between Two Hudson's Bay Company Vessels 1,200 Miles Apart

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Twelve hundred miles was the distance spanned in what are believed to have been the first long distance wireless telephone conversations carried on from the Arctic Ocean. It was learned here today upon the arrival of the Hudson's Bay Company's fur trading steamer, Baychimo, with a cargo of furs from the north valued at $250,000.

Last July when the Baychimo was sailing in the Western Arctic, connection was established by her wireless operator, E. Mitchell, with another of the company's vessels, the Haytor, near the northern entrance of Hudson's Bay, and successful conversations were held between officers of the two ships on two successive nights.

The Baychimo's passengers south-bound included W. H. B. Hoare, an official of the Department of Interior; Sergt. Harns, R.C.M.P., Three Rivers detachment; Corp. Paisley, R.C.M.P., Ballie Island, and Clifford Smith, second officer of the Hudson's Bay Company's schooner, Baymaid.

The Baychimo has completed the fastest and most successful trip of her career in the Western Arctic. Leaving here she visited most of the Arctic posts and has come out well ahead of time.

The only natives of the frozen North that came out on this trip on the Baychimo were some purchased husky dogs. There was one huge adult, with a fine coat of fur-like hair, one half-grown pup, and two pups about one month old.

Florida Takes Count Of Devastated Cities' Deaths and Injuries

At Some Smaller Places Catastrophe Is Greater Proportionately Than at Miami—Forty Thousand People Are Destitute—Nation Gives Prompt Aid—Loss Estimates Vary Greatly

Mobile and Pensacola Are Isolated But Hurricane Is Less Destructive

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 20.—Accurate check on the toll of life and property taken by the West Indian hurricane Friday night and Saturday, when it raged along the east coast of Florida, still was impossible tonight.

Estimates of the dead ranged from 173 to 1,500 in the Miami district, which includes Hollywood, Ft. Lauderdale, Redlands, and Moorehaven, with thousands homeless. Property damage in Miami alone was placed at $150,000,000 by newspapermen arriving here after a survey of the storm-torn city. Loss caused by the hurricane in other sections of the state, as estimated by engineers, would place the total damage well in excess of $200,000,000.

John E. Taylor, personal representative of Governor Martin, advised the chief executive that 173 were killed and approximately 1,400 injured along the lower east coast. He listed seventy-nine dead in Miami and 500 injured. Hollywood and Tampa, sixty dead, 700 injured; Fort Lauderdale, twenty dead, 200 injured; Florida City, seven dead.

Wiped Out or Ruined
Mr. Taylor said he found "terrible property damage" in Miami, but not as bad as first reported. Fort Lauderdale, Tampa and Hollywood were practically wiped out, he reported, and Hialeah was virtually ruined. Coral Gables was badly damaged.

Florida East Coast Railway officials estimate the number dead in Miami at 194, with fifty-four victims at Hollywood and 200 at Hialeah.

Two staff correspondents of the Associated Press reported here that the survey of the stricken section would indicate a death toll of between 600 and 1,500.

Aid Is Prompt
The nation responded quickly to calls for help for the storm sufferers. President Coolidge issued a proclamation calling on the American people to aid. The national headquarters of the American Red Cross made an initial appropriation of $100,000, and newspapers, cities and fraternal organizations poured in subscriptions. Offers of help were received from several states and provinces. Food and clothing supplies were ordered to be sent to the victims. Government departments at Washington placed their resources at the disposal of Governor Martin. Eight coast-guard vessels were ordered to proceed to the east coast, and naval reservists in the Miami district were ordered to active training service.

Moorehaven Worst Inland
Moorehaven, seventy-five miles north of Miami, suffered the most severely of any inland city. Fifty-six bodies had been removed from the wreckage and deposited in a temporary morgue at Tampa, and almost 200 others were reported missing.

Refugees reported that many buildings in Moorehaven were demolished. Some frame structures have found two miles from their original positions. All brick buildings remained intact, however. The town of Clewiston, unheard from until today, reported it had come through the gale unscathed.

Damage to citrus fruit in the wake of the hurricane was placed at $10,000,000.

Canadian Injured

BRANDON, Man., Sept. 20.—Mr. Kenneth Brivea, a resident of this city, was critically injured at Tampa, Fla., during the tropical hurricane which swept through the Gulf of Mexico and according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brivea, today.

Smaller Towns
Hollywood, with seventy-five dead and 800 injured, presented the most pitiful scene in the storm area, as scores of children cried for their parents, and an equal number of adults, scarcely clad, many in bathing suits, searched the wreckage of their homes for traces of loved ones now missing.

At Fort Lauderdale there were thirty dead, twenty other persons are probably fatally hurt, and 503 others less seriously injured were being treated by the Red Cross hospitals and emergency stations. It was said by Red Cross officials there that about 7,000 persons were dependent upon them.

At Dania there had been found fourteen bodies and 140 persons injured. Virtually every home, business building was wrecked. At Davie five were killed and forty injured. Reports are that forty-one dead have been located at Moorehaven and Clewiston across the Lake Okechobee.

Because of the inaccessibility of the towns an accurate check tonight was impossible. It was indicated several hundred were injured. Fifty persons were suffering from injuries at Progresso, and three at Pompano. Progresso reported six dead, and Pompano, one. At Ft. Pierce there were three injured, and at Deerfield two.

Forty Thousand Destitute

Throughout the storm area it was estimated conservatively that 40,000

OAK BAY WILL ASK BOARD TO SET RATE

RESOLUTIONS COVERING WATER QUESTION PASSED AT SPECIAL MEETING

Council Endorses Four-Year Term Agreement to Begin After Expiration of Present Pact

At a special meeting of the Oak Bay Council last evening, resolutions dealing with the water question between the city of Victoria and the municipality were passed, requesting the board appointed under the Water Act of the Province of British Columbia to inquire into and advise Oak Bay and the city of Victoria as to what it considers a fair price for water, and that the parties concerned enter into an agreement to be bound by such price as the board will set, for a period of four years.

For some months Oak Bay has been endeavoring to speed up action on the water question, but apparently not until three weeks ago, was any real movement made by the city. At that time the water committee of the city and the municipality conferred with Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, in an effort to arrive at a course of action.

At that meeting all points of difference were rounded out and Mayor Pendray suggested that any agreement entered into should be for a five-year period, which was agreed upon by Oak Bay. When the resolution was drafted for submission to the council, it was understood that Mayor Pendray objected to the five-year clause and it was some time before amicable relations were renewed. Oak Bay, however, wishing to expedite matters, finally agreed to a four-year period, with the expressed understanding that the effect of the Oak Bay Act of 1910 and of the amended act of 1911, be not jeopardized and that all their promises and effects would remain in full force. Upon the passing of resolutions by both councils, the respective legal advisers will draft the necessary agreement.

The resolutions passed last night were as follows:

"Whereas the corporation of the district of Oak Bay (hereinafter referred to as 'Oak Bay') and the corporation of the city of Victoria (hereinafter referred to as 'the city') have arranged as a matter of convenience at the present time, and on the understanding that all the rights of Oak Bay and of the city whatsoever shall remain and continue of the same force and effect as of the first day of January, 1926, and without prejudice thereto for the future, except as to the rate to be paid for the four-year period hereinafter mentioned; that they request the board appointed under the Water Act of the Province of British Columbia to inquire into and advise Oak Bay and the city what the board considers a fair price for water to be paid by Oak Bay to the city for water supply.

"And be it further resolved that Oak Bay and the city do enter into an agreement to be bound by such price as the said board shall name, for the period of four years from the first day of January, 1926, and to carry out the intent of this resolution.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE GIVEN MAYOR PENDRAY

Alderman P. R. Brown Commends Decision—Presents Further Reduction in Taxation

"I take a great amount of pleasure in congratulating Mayor Pendray on his decision to seek another term in the Mayor's chair," remarked Alderman P. R. Brown at the close of last night's meeting of the City Council.

"The last few years have shown a marked improvement in civic affairs, and there is no doubt in my mind that the day has come when active young business men should take an interest in city matters," he went on to say.

"Some of us are quite aware that you have projects on hand if completed would mean not only better relationship between the different municipalities, but also in the upbuilding of Victoria's future. During the past two years the city has enjoyed a reduction in taxes each year, and public works have gone ahead slowly but surely, and there is no doubt in my mind that with careful administration 1927 should also show a still further reduction in the tax rate.

"As one of the retiring members of your council, it would be a great pleasure to serve with you for another term, if it is the will of the electorate," Alderman Brown concluded.

Mayor Pendray, in reply, said that although there had been difference of opinion, he believed that every member of the Council was a friend, and that it was due to their co-operation that such an encouraging report of the city's finances was able to be given.

Other aldermen following Alderman Brown's example took occasion to congratulate Mayor Pendray on his decision.

FIRE CHIEFS WILL HOLD CONVENTION

City Asked to Be Represented at Thirty-Third Annual Event at Fresno October 11

An invitation to the city of Victoria to be represented at the thirty-third annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs was received by the City Council at last night's meeting. The invitation was referred to the fire wardens.

The convention will be held in Fresno, commencing October 11 and ending October 15. Eighteen papers dealing with questions vital to the fire department and its effort to protect property will be read. Many addresses will be given by authorities, and some spectacular demonstrations will be given by various fire departments.

"In the old days," said Mr. MacInnes, "if the farmers on the prairies wanted to take a holiday after their strenuous work of the summer they usually went South. This is all changing, and every year sees more of them coming out to Vancouver and Victoria, and I believe that before very long the majority will come here. This is as it should be, for our two Coast cities afford almost perfect conditions from a climatic standpoint."

Mr. MacInnes, who will stay in Vancouver for a few days, is accompanied by Col. Sir George McLaren Brown, K.B.E., European general manager for the railway; Mr. Walter Maughan, passenger traffic manager, Montreal; Canadian Pacific Steamships, Mr. J. E. McPherson, assistant passenger traffic manager, Winnipeg; and Mr. George Stephen, Winnipeg, assistant freight traffic manager.

Bengalese Natives Are Lost With Their Craft

CALCUTTA, Sept. 20.—Reports from Bengal say that 170 men, women and children were drowned when a native craft with about 200 passengers on board capsized in a storm while sailing off Sunderbans.

The Girtindia Steam Navigation Company's vessel, the Lepanto, rushed to the rescue but was unable to save more than 26 persons.

Mr. Lowell Thomas will tour Western Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education. His lecture, which will be beautifully illustrated and which will deal with the exploits of Allenby in Palestine and Lawrence in Arabia, will reveal many interesting details concerning two of the most romantic and adventurous figures of the war. The illustrations will consist of both motion pictures and lantern slides.

It has been due to the efforts of Mr. Thomas and his associates that much of the truth concerning Lawrence, "the mystery man of the East," has been brought to light. During the war there were vaguely worded dispatches dealing briefly with the activities of a man who had a mysterious power over the Arabian chiefs, taints and the world sought to know more about him, but it was not until Lowell Thomas commenced his work, "With Lawrence in Arabia," that one of the most thrilling stories of the war was placed in story form.

The visit of Mr. Thomas has been looked forward to with particular interest in Canada, since the recent visit of Lord Allenby, and in addition to revealing further the details connected with the work of the famous commander who captured the city of Damascus, Mr. Lowell's address will have the advantage in that it will deal, perhaps, with merits the commander himself refrained from mentioning. The portion of the lecture dealing with Lawrence will be new, telling how the Arabs were emancipated from the Turks.

CANADIAN POET'S BIRTHDAY

The Colonist extends birthday greetings to Dr. Charles Mair, Canada's distinguished poet, dramatist and patriot. Dr. Mair has entered upon his eighty-eighth year in the pilgrimage of life, living tranquilly and happily in Victoria; and he is surely entitled to live in tranquility and peace for the remainder of his days, because his early days were full of turmoil and filled with activity. Canada was a turbulent land in the youthful days of the poet, and the restlessness of the spirit of the times must have entered into the blood of the young man, because he turned his back upon the peaceful pursuits of medicine and elected himself a journalist, a poet and a politician. As a journalist he entered the Northwest Territories of Canada, then a land of misrule, and fell into the hands of Louis Riel, the half-breed rebel, and was sentenced to death. But the doctor was a man of infinite resource and daring activity. He contrived to escape from the death cell, thus escaping the fate of his companion in captivity, Scott the Martyr, who was executed.

After many stirring adventures Dr. Mair succeeded in reaching Toronto by way of United States territory, and by his speeches and writings created the public sentiment which resulted in the historical Wolsey Expedition and the suppression, temporarily, of the rebellion. When the second Riel rebellion broke out the doctor was in the midst of it and took an active part in it, the rebel being captured and, notwithstanding the intrigues of certain politicians, ultimately hanged.

Dr. Mair is blessed with a great multitude of friends and admirers, who will be delighted to do him honor on the anniversary of the day of his birth. His friends in distant parts of Canada will rejoice to learn that the doctor, notwithstanding the weight of years, while not as active physically as he was in the days when he scorned fatigue and defied danger, is in splendid mental fettle, delights in company and conversation, and is engaged in some literary work of importance which will soon be completed and ready for the press.

PRIVILEGES OF WEALTH

Men who are not directly interested in the question of old age pensions, having by diligent and intelligent cultivation of their talents, with possibly a little luck, accumulated a goodly store of worldly goods, are greatly to be envied. Those so favored of the gods are particularly to be envied if they live in Victoria. They are not to be envied because of the mere possession of great wealth, but because of the opportunities there are in Victoria for the enjoyment of wealth and for devoting the wealth they possess to beneficent purposes.

We have heard some people say there are more wealthy men and women in Victoria in proportion to the population than there are in any other city in the whole world. We have never been able to verify that statement, but verification of such an interesting statement is not of the least importance. The fact that is important is the use which is being made of the actual wealth that has been accumulated by the fortunate men and women of Victoria. We are happy in a position to state that the wealth that has been accumulated by Victorians is being devoted to more beneficent purposes than most people have any conception of.

What better purposes could accumulated wealth be applied to than erecting and endowing institutions for healing the sick, providing for the comfort of the afflicted and indigent, insuring for the present generation and future generations facilities for physical recreation and mental relaxation, and making provision for the spiritual aspirations and needs of the population of the present day and the greater population of future days?

The fact that a few of the wealthy men of Victoria have contributed to their abundance for the establishment on a permanent basis of two of the district golf courses may not seem to be a matter of importance, but learned and experienced men of the medical profession often prescribe a daily round of golf as a cure for certain of the ills that flesh is heir to, and one of the wealthiest men in the world who has achieved great length of days attributes his capacity for enjoyment of the good things of life notwithstanding the ravages of time to his daily round upon the links. Physical exercise is necessary to good health in these degenerate days because a considerable proportion of mankind neither toils nor spins, and idling and spinning are necessary to insure that the various organs of the human body shall properly perform their functions. That is why people who have interned themselves in cities are so keen upon games and athletic sports.

But there are things of greater importance to the life of a community than physical sports and amusements. Sports and physical exercises are all very well in their place, but they should not be given the first place in the life of the people. A public library already has been endowed by a wealthy man who accumulated his wealth in the United States. We know that our public library occupies a very important place in the intellectual life of the people of Victoria. The people of the Anglican Communion have set their hands to a work which will occupy a highly important place in the spiritual life of the people of Victoria. They have laid the foundations of a new cathedral of splendid proportions and highly artistic conception. We should like to see that magnificent edifice speedily completed and consecrated to the public worship of God, and we believe a multitude of people who are not of the Anglican faith also are looking forward to such a consummation, because they have been assured that the cathedral is a communal, not a denominational, enterprise.

Nature has done a great deal for Victoria. The environment of the city is unsurpassed in beauty. Art has embellished the natural charm of the place; but the artist has not yet finished his work. When the new cathedral is finished, its spacious interior adorned with a grand organ, its towering spires equipped with a peal of sweet-toned bells, what a privilege it will be for one to proclaim himself a citizen of Victoria! Many people of moderate means have contributed in accordance with their ability to this noble and notable undertaking. If the people of more than moderate means follow the example of their brethren of moderate means the completion of the new Christ Church Cathedral will not be a dream of the distant future. It will be a reality of the immediate future.

VAIN PROCEEDINGS

The hounds of the law are upon the trail of Mrs. Aimee McPherson, of the Angelus Temple, Los Angeles, Cal. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the reverend lady and several of the members of her evangelistic corps. Some of the warrants have been served and those upon whom the warrants were served have appeared in court. Mrs. McPherson did not appear in court in response to her warrant because she was too ill to enter an appearance; but she was not so ill that she could not appear at the services in the Temple on Sunday. She entered the Temple, which was crowded to the doors, and was received with the greatest fervor and enthusiasm. The hosannas of the multitude resounded in triumph throughout the great building.

Mrs. McPherson is charged with perjury—not with perjury prejudicial to the good name or high reputation of anybody in particular, but with perjury calculated to bring the administration of the law and the order of the state into contempt. The law therefore might just as well withdraw its hands from the scent and elect the popular exhorter. It never will convict Mrs. McPherson of perjury or of any other offence against the state. If the case should come to trial, learned counsel will devote a great deal of time and spend a large amount of money in selecting a jury, and when the jury is chosen it will either acquit the accused or be unable to agree upon a verdict. Then the popular pastor of the Angelus Temple will be more popular than ever.

Canadians have acquired the reputation of being a very sensitive, almost a super-sensitive, people. Like the Americans of another day, Canadians must be "cracked up," by distinguished visitors from other countries. To express a candid opinion upon almost any subject is dangerous. Lord Darling undoubtedly had this thought in his mind when he selected as the subject of his discourse, "Nothing in Particular." Of course he did manage to say "Something in Particular," but his Lordship could say something in particular upon any subject, even upon the subject of the weather. If the visits of distinguished men from Britain are of any value to Canadians, the visitors must be told that they are welcome to say whatever they please about Canada and Canadian institutions.

A terrible tempest has devastated the State of Florida, which the late William J. Bryan eloquently and profitably described as a Garden of Eden. Much property was destroyed and many lives lost. There has been a deluge in several of the other states of the union. Snow has fallen and frost has descended in other parts of the United States and Canada. What a privilege it is to live in a part of the world that is subject to no meteorological extremes.

Thirty individuals in the United States who will drink despite the prohibition law are sent to jail and condemned to live upon bread and water. That is what may be described as making the punishment fit the crime. And the penalty is all the more dire because in many parts of the United States the water is described by physicians as not fit to drink.

It is characteristic of our estimable neighbors in Quebec that they vote almost en bloc for Mr. King because they do not know him and vote almost en bloc against Mr. Meighen because they do not know him.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR IMMIGRATION

Major Ralph Glyn, Member of British House of Commons, Gives Information to West

"Prospects for immigration to Canada are good," declared Major Glyn, member of the British House of Commons for the Abingdon Division of Berkshire, on his arrival in the city yesterday.

"We must not put round pegs in square holes. But to avoid that we have first got to know what are the round pegs and what are the square holes. I have come out here to learn all I can from the people on the spot as to how we in England can help. It is impossible to learn this simply by reading reports instead of coming and seeing at first hand," Major Glyn asserted.

Major Glyn declared that the British House of Commons was tackling in a serious manner the important question of emigration to Canada.

A member of the House of Commons committee on colonization, Major Glyn came to Canada for the purpose of gathering information for the committee. Traveling with him through this province is Mr. J. Colley, of the C.P.R. colonization department of Calgary. They have been through the Columbia and Okanagan Valleys.

Major Glyn, who has been a guest of Lieutenant-Governor Bruce at Government House during his visit in Victoria, left for the Mainland last night.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aimee Michaels

The thorn tree to the rose-tree made a long lament one day when flower spring decked hill and glade and all the world was gay. The rose was beautiful and proud, the fairest of the fair, and all the garden dwellers vowed her grace beyond compare. The thorn tree to the rose-tree complained, "O thorn tree, you are queen, yet wrongfully am I disinclined for your soft petals' sheen. The soil about your roots is rich, and fine that loam; how can I flourish in a ditch, while all men tend your home? As I for bare existence strive in hard and barren earth, your pampered branches grow and thrive, all though of lesser worth." The rose said nothing in reply, but smiled as one who knows the thorn will be, while time goes by, a thorn, the rose a rose.

AN AUTUMN GARDEN

Whence comes this balmy essence—sweet
With odorous blossoms down the street?
It steals upon the Sabbath air,
Where all may in due season share.
Wafted 'neath Indian Summer skies,
What potent magic this implies!
Nearby still nearer, and more dense,
The haunting breath of mingled scents,
Till there before mine eyes revealed
The source from whence this joy unsealed.
Nor bounded by broad acre, touch
As can be wrought by Mida's touch;
But by an urban lot, a fair
A paragon of earthly bliss!
Within there stood a home—alas!
Such all too few—a coup de grace;
About the velvet lawn a bower,
Every imaginable flower
That could of fragrant beauty
Upon this mundane sphere below.
Roses? O, what a wealth of these Dropt petals on a slumorous breeze!
The loveliest of lilies, tall,
Grew gracefully against the wall;
A little fairy fountain, too,
Through fragrant thoughts of Fontainebleau;
Nor can a title enumerate
Of all within that garden gate!
The wealth of bloom, the birdling's hath,
The sense of peace, the trim-kept path!
Nor have I seen—nay, anywhere,
So much of grace in one parterre.
Irelandland itself no fairer scene
Could boast throughout her broad domain
Than this from whence such sweets were borne
All on a sunlit Sabbath morn!

The Germ

Sir—Another discovery of far-reaching importance in the scientific and medical world is being presented to us through the medium of the press in relation to certain work carried on by Drs. Horder and Ferry, of London. Under the heading "Germ Provides Its Own Antidote" (see Colonist, Sunday, September 13), we are informed that "every germ carries in itself not only the disease-producing poison but the antidote which cures the poison. If the antidote is injected into the patient it will cure such diseases as septicaemia and pneumonia."

Now we distinctly remember that in 1914 Sir Thomas Horder made a statement regarding inoculation from which we quote: "At first sight the growing popularity of inoculation treatment among practitioners suggests that its utility is thereby demonstrated."

Many of us inoculate our patients because it is expected of us rather than because we feel it to be the best way to cure them."

This would naturally lead one to believe that the speaker had some doubts as to the value of the process of inoculation, although he insists that he both approves and practices it. The statement may seem to others to be somewhat contradictory, but of course there is no reason for this.

With the last two years it is stated that Drs. Horder and Ferry have carried on some research which is fascinating in the extreme, and when we learn that Dr. Ferry is attached to the Park-Deane laboratories, we need not perhaps be surprised at the sensational advertisement of these discoveries. Now, a fuller report than that published in The Colonist tells us that the doctors have made their sensational discovery by taking germ cells and giving them to a patient who had collected the washings of the outside of the cells and injected them into the patient as an antidote to the disease-producing poison.

Now, a fuller report than that published in The Colonist tells us that the doctors have made their sensational discovery by taking germ cells and giving them to a patient who had collected the washings of the outside of the cells and injected them into the patient as an antidote to the disease-producing poison.

The weak point in their investigation seems to be that they are basing their research solely on theories. The germ theory of disease (the belief that germs cause disease) with its attendant vaccine and serum therapy, has been advanced for the last half century as if it were a reality, but with an utter disregard of the fact that germs have never been proved to be the cause of disease. I state this deliberately and emphatically. So, then, the findings of the research workers never present a very convincing argument to unbiased and sincere candidates for truth. As no one has yet discovered the pneumonia germ, it must be difficult for its attendant vaccine and serum therapy to produce the desired results to find a cure along the lines already referred to.

So many wonderful discoveries are made, advertised zealously for a while, and then scrapped as useless that I shall not be surprised to learn that this latest one has in due time shared the fate of so many of its predecessors, and is relegated to the limbo of things better forgotten. One of the latest remarkable and now discredited discoveries was that announced by Dr. Gye and Mr. Barnard with regard to cancer—exploited within a month or so of its tremendous press advertisement.

Research work along these and similar lines would not so distress us if it were not so closely associated with horrible cruelty to animals—a fact of which many persons are ignorant, or else they overlook and ignore it. And here we can imagine the question, "Would you put animals before human beings?" No, we would not, but we would extend to them the justice which is their right, knowing that human beings would not suffer but benefit in consequence.

In concluding, attention must be drawn to a fact that does not receive the publicity which it deserves. During the efforts of the land and colonization department of the Canadian National Railways more than eighty families from Kansas and adjacent midwestern states have been settled in that section of Saskatchewan on land which they have purchased from the company, according to Mr. J. B. Boyd, superintendent of land and colonization of the C.N.R. at St. Paul, who returned to Winnipeg today after leaving another fifteen families in the Eaton district.

This number represents only a beginning, he says. The experience has been this year that the new settlers have been so pleased with their land and prospects that they have been inducing relatives and friends in the United States to join them and a big influx is expected next spring. These eighty families, according to Mr. Boyd, represent cash investment in Saskatchewan.

Through the efforts of the land and colonization department of the Canadian National Railways more than eighty families from Kansas and adjacent midwestern states have been settled in that section of Saskatchewan on land which they have purchased from the company, according to Mr. J. B. Boyd, superintendent of land and colonization of the C.N.R. at St. Paul, who returned to Winnipeg today after leaving another fifteen families in the Eaton district.

This number represents only a beginning, he says. The experience has been this year that the new settlers have been so pleased with their land and prospects that they have been inducing relatives and friends in the United States to join them and a big influx is expected next spring. These eighty families, according to Mr. Boyd, represent cash investment in Saskatchewan.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—In the vicinity of Eaton and Tyner, Sask., one of the latest American agricultural communities in Western Canada, is in the progress of formation already since May of this year. Through the efforts of the land and colonization department of the Canadian National Railways more than eighty families from Kansas and adjacent midwestern states have been settled in that section of Saskatchewan on land which they have purchased from the company, according to Mr. J. B. Boyd, superintendent of land and colonization of the C.N.R. at St. Paul, who returned to Winnipeg today after leaving another fifteen families in the Eaton district.

DIWAN FINDS TWO NATIONS IN LAND

DURING THE ELECTION THERE SEEMED TO BE HIGH AND LOW TARIFF NATIONS

After Poll They Merged Into One and Appearance of Civil Conflict Vanished in Peaceful Scene

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—Diwan Bahadur Sir Tirvayagund Vijayaraghavacharya, K.B.E., addressed the Canadian Club this afternoon. In unmistakable language he gave the lie to any suggestion that India wished to cut the tie that binds it to the British Empire. "As we stood shoulder to shoulder during the war, so let us stand together in peace," he said.

The Diwan is a shrewd observer, as he indicated when speaking of rumors that have reached Canada of trouble in India.

"Politicians are the same the world over," he said amid laughter; "they are apt to exaggerate. This is the rule in India at any rate. You can answer for your politicians here. Supposing I were to go back to India basing my impressions on what I have just heard in Canada, I would tell my people there that Canada is divided into two nations, one called high tariff and the other low tariff."

After the Election

"I should tell my people that Canada is in a very bad way indeed, but after the election I find Canada is still one nation and the life of the country is going on as usual. The trouble is that you only read in the newspapers the sensational news of India, just as sometimes we read only of the divorce that takes place in America. You cannot base your impressions on the telegraphed sensational news of any country."

The speaker admitted that there had been trouble in India, just the same as there

Warden of B.C. Penitentiary Explains the Methods Used in Federal Penitentiaries

The Federal prisons of Canada give criminals individual attention, Colonel H. W. Cooper, warden of the British Columbia penitentiary at New Westminster, explained to The Oregonian, during a brief visit in Portland while on his way back to Canada after a tour of Pacific Coast institutions.

The individual attention system of handling criminals has been improved and amplified in recent years by General W. St. Pierre Hughes, in charge of all Canadian Federal prisons. General Hughes is a firm believer in treating men in accordance with their planes of physical, intellectual, and vocational training, according to Col. Cooper.

The British Columbia penitentiary, although far from being one of the larger of Canadian penitentiaries, is typical of all, Col. Cooper pointed out. When a convict enters that prison, he is examined by specialists to determine his physical and medical condition, his intelligence and educational training. Full reports are forwarded to the warden who studies them before outlining the convict's programme of prison life and training.

Canadian prisons also have their vocational training and types of employment for their inhabitants. At New Westminster, like the other prisons, government mail bags, government tents and government boots are repaired by convicts. Nothing is produced for the open market in competition with free labor. Vocational training is made thorough to provide a means of livelihood after the prison term ends. A prisoner who is placed in the tin shop, learns also how to make his patterns, block and cut his materials from his knowledge of algebra and geometry taught in the prison schools.

Spiritual life of the Canadian prisons is exemplified by the teachings of prison chaplains, championed by General Hughes, according to Col. Cooper.

Col. Cooper stated less than five per cent of Canada's criminal population is composed of repeaters, a figure thought to be far less than America's. The British Columbia prison now has 250 prisoners as compared to 230 before the war. Six Canadian Federal prisons have a total population of 2,300 men.

The provincial prisons take all convicts with sentences of less than two years or death, while the Federal prisons take convicts sentenced to two years or more. Every employee of the Federal prisons, from warden down, is a civil service worker.

KANSAS CITY POLICE NOW USE AEROPLANES

Constables Will Scout Country for Fugitive Thugs From Air—Radio Communication Sought

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20.—Believing themselves safely to have outdistanced pursuers in a motor car, with the bank loot hidden in a sack on the floor, the robbers now down to a more leisurely pace—only to hear a terrifying voice from the heavens. It is the siren of the police planes. Their motors can be heard plainly in the afternoon stillness. Three planes are there. They turn, speed on and return to hover inescapably over the now frantically racing car, the siren notifying officials for miles around that the police have found the robbers. A posse forms an ambush at a crossroad. There is a brief rattle of fire and the robbers are captured.

All of this easily is within the range of possibility at any time near Kansas City. Three commercial "Waco" planes are, at all times, available to the police here for just such use. A five-minute police car dash across the Missouri River to an air field and the siren of the planes, whirling over scores of miles of the country through which the robbers are likely to pass.

E. L. Winn, Jr., secretary of the Kansas City police board, a former army pilot, has energetically instilled himself in establishing the aerial police. He hopes that radio communication between the planes and police headquarters soon may be arranged.

FLORIDA TAKES COUNT OF DEVASTATED CITIES DEATHS AND INJURIES

persons were homeless and virtually without clothing or immediate methods to recuperate their losses.

Martial law declared Saturday, continued in effect throughout the storm area until late this evening, when the restrictions in Miami were modified. No one was allowed during the day to enter the stricken area except upon some mission of relief, official business of the Government or state, or for the funeral.

Hundreds were turned back by the soldiers despite their pleas that relatives were in the storm area and had been unheard from. It was considered best until things had better adjusted themselves that the water and food supply be not further strained by additional mouths to feed. It was decided, too, that the work of collecting the dead and injured and caring for the housing of the destitute would be hampered by permitting additional persons within the area.

General Survey

MIAMI, Sept. 21.—The West Indian hurricane which Saturday swept the lower Florida coast tonight had isolated Pensacola and Mobile, and was sweeping toward other Gulf coast points and inland to Southern Alabama and Mississippi.

Pensacola was cut off early today when the wind reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour. This afternoon communication by wire with Mobile was severed with a 100-mile wind report at 5 p.m. The Tropical Radio station operator at Mobile reported to the New Orleans Tropical station that property damage already amounting to $500,000 had been done. The last direct report from Pensacola coming just before all wires were lost told of the 100-mile wind.

Counting Up

While newspapermen and others struggled to reach newly stricken cities to the westward, Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Diana, Clewiston, Moorehaven and other cities hit

Former Parish Priest Now Released as Sane

REV. JAMES MINEHAN
Former parish priest of Dixie, Ont., who, following sensational charges that he was insane, has been adjudged sane by Mr. Justice Wright. During his detention he was appointed to administer his estate.

two days ago, began to send word of their plight and their needs. The known dead list compiled from all sources was set at 348, with estimated of the final total ranging from 543 to 656, and with the known injured fixed at 1,532, and estimates fixing the total at from 3,781 to 4,061.

Two Associated Press staff men who were stranded in the East Coast storm area yesterday, today went over the entire area. Tonight they returned to West Palm Beach with reports of 325 deaths, forty missing, 4,000 injured, and 40,000 homeless. They found 125 persons in Miami proper, and forty-five known dead in the suburbs, Coral Gables, Miami Shores, Little River and Hialeah. Hollywood reported seventy-five known dead, with estimates of a probable death list of 100 when all debris had been cleared and a check made. From Ft. Lauderdale they brought a report of thirty-seven known dead, twenty probably fatally wounded, 503 known injured, and 7,000 homeless.

Ten bodies and 140 injured were at Dade, five dead and forty hurt at Dade, and one dead at each of Progresso and Pompano. Reports of fifty-two known deaths came from Clewiston and Moorehaven, with many more, probably, at the latter place.

Present Conditions

Stories of wreckage that blocked roads and streets, fine homes and buildings in the cities wrecked or badly damaged, were brought out. They reported water scarce and supplies short, but with ample supplies coming in. Medical supplies of various kinds, especially tetanus serum, are needed in some places.

Money to care for those who lost everything, is the worst need now, however, officials said.

Martial law is in force in most of these communities to prevent looting and invasion of the district by persons whose presence is not necessary. Passengers arriving on the trains are required to remain on the trains until questioned by authorities.

Funds for the relief of the victims of the storm were being raised throughout the country. In many places meetings have been called for tomorrow to raise money needed to send workers and supplies to the district, and today the full resources of the Fourth Army Corps area were placed at the disposal of Governor Martin of Florida. A request was received tonight by Brig.-Gen. Hagood, commander of the Fourth Army Corps, from the Adjutant-General of Florida for 4,000 tents and 4,000 cots.

Lost Alderman Spends Wet Night in Timber

VERNON, B.C., Sept. 20.—Losing his way in the bush on the opening day of the shooting season, Alderman W. H. Oliver was forced to spend a day and a night in the woods last week. Early the next morning he detected a light, and making his way to it found safety and shelter in the home of a settler.

And you are quite right. Every one should rise from the table feeling as though they could eat just a little more.

It contributes to the body: Dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; phosphorus for teeth and bones; protein for muscle and body-building; and the important vitamin-B. Grape-Nuts has a most appetizing, unforgettable, distinctly its own flavor that you'll be sure to enjoy. And its small, golden kernels are crisp—you like to chew them, thus giving your teeth and gums the healthful exercise that every dentist urges so strongly.

Serve Grape-Nuts in your home—have it at your hotel, restaurant or club—tomorrow. Four teaspoonsful at the side of a bowl of milk or cream is enough—and costs less than one cent. Sold by all grocers in wax-wrapped packages ready to eat.

Senator David Leaves Good Wishes to Heirs In Place of Wealth

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—Not having acquired much of what is termed wealth in the busy world, the late Senator David in his will bequeathed good wishes to his family, and to those millions of persons for whom he battled during many years.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS ASSEMBLES

Migration Policy Again Outlined and Enlarged
Camps Recommended

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—The 42nd annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened here today, on the platform were Rt. Hon. F. R. Roberts, British fraternal delegates and other prominent laborers. Delegates were in attendance from all parts of the Dominion. The report of the executive council stated that "while there has been a noticeable improvement in industrial conditions during the past few months there is still considerable unemployment in Canada." The report continued: "That the outlook for improvement in the industrial field is much brighter than at any period since 1921," and the executive expressed the belief that "with steady growing confidence in the trade union movement, as represented by the congress, and the increasing determination to maintain its unity now apparent, this convention will prove to be the rallying point for a united forward movement during the coming year."

The Congress' migration policy is again outlined and endorsed. It calls for the immigration of Canada through immigration by a free enlightened, moral and energetic and law abiding class of citizens and the prohibition of all false inducements to secure newcomers.

It is recommended that the Dominion Government investigate the British farm training camps with a view to establishing similar ones in the industrial centres of the Dominion, as steps toward assisting the unemployed and others in Canada, desirous of so doing to establish themselves on Canadian farms.

PLAYS IN BOOK FORM GROW IN POPULARITY

Public Now Needs the Drama, Librarian Shows—American Dramatists Receive Recognition

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Appearance in the past quarter-century of many able American playwrights and a quick appreciation of their works, as evidenced by public demand for plays in book form, is revealed in the new catalogue of the American Library Association.

This catalogue, the first to be published since 1904, lists 10,000 books best suited for the needs of all libraries. It will be printed and distributed at the time of the library association's fiftyth anniversary conference and celebration in Atlantic City and Philadelphia, October 4 to 9.

Only One in 1904
Comparing the new edition with that of the 1904 compiler, Miss Isabelle M. Cooper, of the New York Public Library, pointed out that in the section of American drama (thirty-two professional playwrights) there were no new names listed in the former catalogue.

The pulse of the nation's cultural life, the catalogue, Miss Cooper said, is public libraries. Miss Cooper said, "In the first years of the century there was practically no circulation of plays written by American dramatists. That this was due to lack of material and not to indifference has been proved by the attention given good dramatic art in the past few years."

Many Favorites
"Today there are many American dramatists whose works not only are given high rating by literary critics, but which enjoy popular favor also. There is a demand for them in book form."
"Eugene O'Neill is outstanding, receiving the greatest recognition abroad as well as at home. Among others whose plays are most in demand at the country of our libraries are Zona Gale who wrote 'Miss Lulu Bett'; Hatcher Hughes, who wrote 'Hell Bent for Heaven'; Elmer L. Rice, 'The Miracle'; Thornton Wilder, 'The American People'; and George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, who collaborated in writing 'Beat on the Drumhead.'"

DRY WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF THRESHING

It Will Be Resumed Generally Throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan This Week

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—With the improvement in weather conditions during the week-end and grain have been drying out, and with the exception of Alberta threshing should be generally resumed today, according to the latest crop report of the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Threshing will be resumed in certain districts in Alberta today, and with continued favorable weather should be general by the end of the week.

The protracted wet period and mild temperatures were responsible for considerable sprouting in stock, more particularly in Manitoba and Alberta. Sprouting, however, was not on a wide scale, and the percentage is small. Marketings will not be seriously affected, although there will be a certain loss of grade in these cases. Farmers are warned not to start threshing before their grain has an opportunity to dry and harden properly. If this precaution is observed damage arising from the wet weather will be minimized. Frost in various parts of the West caused damage to farm produce, but did not affect the grain. The rain improved pastures, and cows are milking well. The yield is such that farmers generally are assured of a satisfactory financial return.

Noted British Preacher Denies Statement Sent

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The report that Dr. F. W. Norwood, noted British preacher now visiting Canada, had declared in a Toronto address that during the Great War the British forces slaughtered more women and children by air raids on defenceless towns than did the Germans, was denied by Dr. Charles Williams, preaching in the City Temple Sunday evening. Cablegrams received by Dr. Williams denied that Dr. Norwood had made such a statement in his Toronto address.

UNDER THE CLOCK

City Hall Activities in Brief

Authorization was given the City Engineer to construct a trail on Seaview Avenue, between Cook and Jones Streets, at an estimated cost of $700, and a trail on Graham Street, from Hillside Avenue to Seaview Avenue, at an estimated cost of $800, when the council last night adopted the public works committee's report.

In connection with the committee's recommendation, that the application for a permit to erect a stable on property situated on Heywood Avenue be refused, a resolution was passed standing this over for another week, during which time the parks committee would endeavor to find a more suitable site for a stable, to house some sixteen horses, for the use of those who enjoy riding. The fact was stressed that the bridge path in Beacon Hill Park was not used to any great extent owing to the fact that there were no stables near the park. It was also intimated that the Government would probably allow the Clover Point rifle range to be used for riding purposes.

The City Solicitor will be instructed to prepare a by-law affecting the regulation of sight-seeing trolleybuses on Belleville Street. The suggestion was offered by the trolley operators that the police regulate the positions at the stand. Approved by the City Council and Police Commission, a by-law will be drafted putting this course into force.

The Council expressed appreciation on receipt of a notification to the effect that the Crown grant of fifty-three acres of land on the Goldstream Plate had been forwarded to the Land Registry Office here.

Mr. R. Archment was granted permission to operate a garage at 749 Broughton Street. Permission to operate a new building at 741 Johnson Street as a garage was granted Mr. R. C. Simons, subject to the approval of the Chief of the Fire Department.

A communication from Mr. J. M. Campbell, of 1403 River Street, complaining about the conditions of this street, was referred to the Public Works Committee.

It was recommended by the water committee of the City Council that Mayor Pendry and City Clerk Bradley sign the agreement between the city and Sanicoma Electric Co. to reserve property in Mount Tolmie Park to be used for reservation purposes. This agreement is separate from the one ratifying the purchase of the property from the Anglican Synod.

Heavy Snowfalls in Edmonton and South of Calgary

CALGARY, Sept. 20.—The storm which brought snow to Edmonton early during the day, struck Calgary tonight, and a heavy snow started to fall with promise of an all-night duration. Labor conditions seem to have come to a head in this district, a delegation of out-of-work and stranded harvesters having waited on the mayor over the week-end in an endeavor to make an appeal for aid. In spite of the change for the worse in weather conditions in the north of the province, reports from the south indicate sunshine and harvesting going ahead briskly.

City Churches Join in St. Andrew's Jubilee

Lieutenant-Governor Bruce Present at Presbyterian Celebrations Last Evening — Bishop Schofield Brings Anglican Church Greetings

HIS Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and clergy from practically all the city denominations joined the big gathering at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last evening, on the occasion of the continued celebration of the congregation's Diamond Jubilee, to extend greetings and congratulations.

The assembly was notable in other respects, being one of the biggest gatherings of early residents of the city that has been brought together for many a day. Notable among these old-timers was Mrs. Michael, of Lady-smith, and Mr. James Pottinger, two members of the first congregation, which met after St. Andrew's was organized sixty years ago. Mrs. Michael's father, Mr. Thomas Russell, was a settler of the first generation meeting held in 1866, and Mr. Pottinger's father was an elder in the church from its inception.

Another interesting incident in the evening's proceedings was the presentation by Mr. Richard Curry of a framed copy of an ancient parchment, of the Covenanters' Covenant signed in 1580. Presented through the Rev. J. S. Patterson, moderator, to the Victoria Presbyterian, this interesting document, in which is reproduced every detail of the original manuscript, will be hung somewhere in St. Andrew's Church, where it can be seen by any who are interested in the early struggles of Presbyterianism in Scotland.

Reviews History

The programme last evening opened with a short service of music and prayer, the Rev. Joseph McCoy, of Knox Presbyterian Church, conducting the latter. Mr. Donald Maclean presided.

The pastor, Rev. Dr. W. L. Clay, rehearsed the history of St. Andrew's congregation from the time of organization in 1866 down to the present time, already reviewed in these columns. There followed addresses by Lieutenant-Governor Bruce, the Bishop of Columbia, the Rev. J. S. Patterson, moderator of Victoria Presbyterian; the Rev. Henry Knox, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association; the Rev. Dr. Rochester, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, and by Mr. Curry. The Rev. Dr. John Campbell, a veteran Presbyterian pastor of the city, pronounced the benediction.

Messages of greeting included one from the Rev. A. J. MacGillivray, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, extending congratulations to Dr. Clay and to St. Andrew's congregation on having attained the church's Diamond Jubilee; and others, coupled with regrets at being unable to attend, from Dr. John A. Logan, Mr. T. A. Henderson, Mrs. Miller, Dr. Heustie (Vancouver), Ven. Archdeacon Laycock and Very Rev. Dean Quinlan.

A Great Day

"I feel that this is a great day in the history of Presbyterianism, not only in this church and congregation, but in the whole Province," said the Rev. Mr. Patterson, St. Andrew's, who recalled, had splendidly maintained its old record for staunch Presbyterianism in the critical time two years ago. The congregation was much to be congratulated on having so splendid a pastor, whose long period of service, extending over thirty years, was in itself testimony to his relations with his people.

Presbyterianism had in the past stood for a scholarly ministry and this, he felt certain, would characterize it also in the future. The church had also stood for evangelism in the sense that it was both evangelical and evangelistic, the former being the founding of the canon, the latter representing the firing of the cannon. Presbyterianism had also taken a very active part in missionary enterprise, and this also would belong to its future policy. The church had made great sacrifices for its faith in the days of the early struggle in Scotland; and willingness and readiness to personal sacrifice must still be there, although he felt that they had passed through their darkest hour and could face the future with rejoicing.

Anglican Greetings

Bishop Schofield's address was in the nature of greetings and congratulations from the Anglican Church. Admitting to but a slight knowledge of the history of St. Andrew's, the Bishop nevertheless furnished a very interesting comparison between the pastor's duties in the Church of England sixty years ago on Vancouver Island and today, when he recalled an incident described in the diary of the first Bishop of Columbia, that at that time it had taken six hours, with much inconvenience, to go from Victoria to the little church on Mount Newton. Command to conduct a service, whereas Bishop Scho-

Lady Carnarvon Is Called Great Beauty

ABOVE, the present Lady Carnarvon, reputed to be one of the most beautiful women in the British peerage, is shown with her two children, Lord Porchester and Lady Denelope. The grandfather of the two children, the fifth Earl of Carnarvon, died in April of 1923, soon after he had headed an expedition which undertook to open the tomb of Tutankhamen, ancient Egyptian king. The present Lady Carnarvon, who was formerly Catherine Wendell, of New York, married the present earl, who was then Lord Porchester, in 1922.

field had just recently made the same trip by motor in twenty minutes.

"Think of the enormous strides we have made since those days," commented His Lordship, who at this point inserted congratulations to St. Andrew's on having been a successful "down-town" church all its sixty years. "There is a witness, a service, a contribution to be made to the community by a down-town church that cannot be made anywhere else," he pointed out. "Although his remark, he emphasized, referred rather to the small town like Victoria than to the big cities like London, where there was practically no population in the 'down-town' area. It was with this idea of witnessing to the spiritual life that the Diocese of Columbia was now centering its efforts on the building of a great cathedral which, without rivaling any of the other churches, would crown them all, and which, he intended, would be, in some way, turned to use for the whole Christian community.

Churches Hand in Hand

"It says a great deal for the future of Christianity in this particular part of Canada that the various churches are meeting hand in hand, in good work," said His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in opening his frequently applauded remarks. Everyone belonging to the Church of Scotland was intensely proud of the standard which the church had set. It had done wonderful work for Scotland and for every part of the Empire, including Canada. Having lived in the interior for many years he had had an opportunity to note the splendid work done there by the Presbyterian, Anglican and other church missionaries.

Mr. Knox characterized as "sixty years of heroic service," the period

Lieut.-Governor Chief Patron at Theatre Tonight

HIS Honor Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce, Mayor Pendray and Aldermen will be patrons of the romantic drama, "Polypheme," which is being produced at the Coliseum tonight. The play is being presented in aid of the Solarium Fund and will commence tonight at 8:15. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will give an address between acts.

which St. Andrew's congregation was celebrating. From what he had seen of St. Andrew's and its pastor he believed that the church was helping men Godward and inspiring them to engage "in His service."

Unique Distinction

Dr. Rochester saw unique distinction in Dr. Clay's thirty-two years' pastorate in St. Andrew's, where he still enjoyed "the affection, the confidence and the high esteem" of its members, as well as that of the whole community. Mr. Richard Curry, before presenting the copy of the Covenanters' charter, reviewed the history of the Covenanters in Scotland, and its effect on that country and people. It was interesting that he had himself, as a child, known the great missionary, John G. Paton, and equally interesting was the incident recalled by him that, when a young man, he had gone to Greenock, Scotland, to operate a lantern in connection with an illustrated lecture on Canada, given by the Rev. Thos. Somerville, the first pastor of St. Andrew's, then home after a sojourn in the Dominion.

Among the other churches represented at the gathering were First United Church, by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson; Patented United Church, by the Rev. B. W. Lee, and Emmanuel Baptist Church, by the Rev. James Strachan.

After the formal programme the congregation repaired to the social hall, where refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

Scarcity of Real Antiques Starts A New Business

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 20.—The quest for antiques has left a thriving business in its wake, one in which the property owner and salvager have found a mutual profit.

Particularly in this section, one of the oldest in the United States, ancient residences and buildings are being placed on the market valued principally for their aged carpentry. Wreckers have found new revenue by sale or careful handling of houses wanted for future use in a modern home or office.

Carpentry Taken Up The drift of souvenir hunting for antique doors, staircases, window casements, cupboards and room panelling has reached its present stage due to scarcity of real antiques in furniture and art of unquestioned age and origin, these people believe. And many persons, disappointed in failure to obtain old furniture or objects for their homes, are going in for carpentry, which shows combined artistic design and quality and age.

The bits which salvagers tear out of old structures are being incorporated into the finish of a den, library or dining-room in the modern home. Ceiling beams are in good demand, and architects have to solve the problems of harmoniously working interior finish beams, or panelling or the use of a staircase, into a modern arrangement of floor.

Aged Mansions Disappear Really old houses built by men who put art into their work as well as age-resisting woods, are becoming scarce in Connecticut. This has been strikingly brought in notice as the many towns and country churches have celebrated anniversaries of 100 to 200 years of existence. Former town-folk and members of families descended from the settlers have returned. Many of them have sought to take back home souvenirs of colonial days, and there being no furniture, pewter, or old silver, they have turned to old houses for their relics.

More old houses built in the 1700's have been torn down than in any previous year. If not wrecked, they have been stripped of choice sections of interior. Prices paid for material removed frequently has been more than the market value of the structure.

GRADUATES TO MEET IN MONTREAL SHORTLY

McGill University Reunion Will Take Place on October 6—Expected Many Will Attend

Old McGill is once again calling to her sons and daughters, scattered all over the world, to foregather within the walls of their Alma Mater in Montreal for the 10th reunion of graduates and students. Between two and three thousand of them participated in the celebration of the 1921 centenary reunion, and so successful was the gathering that it was decided to hold reunions every five years.

And so McGill men and women from every State in the Union, and from all the Provinces in Canada as well as in other parts of the world are being invited to be in Montreal from October 6 to October 9, to renew old friendships, see the changes and improvements that have been made in the University buildings, and participate in the honoring of distinguished graduates and the entertainment provided.

New Arts Building

The new arts building, built with the most modern improvements, but still retaining the historic old facade, through the portals of which so many thousands of students have passed, will be ready for inspection by reunion week, and there are many other changes in their Alma Mater which will interest past students, indicative of the fact that McGill, under the direction of Sir Arthur Currie, whilst retaining its old traditions and high ideals, is still advancing with the times.

The programme for the 10th reunion provides for registration on the morning of October 6, with convocation in the afternoon, when special honorary degrees of LL.D. will be conferred on two distinguished sons of McGill. If the evening there will be a reception. On October 7 there will be lectures, clinics and exercises by the different faculties, and in the afternoon a garden party at Macdonald College, while the evening will be devoted to fraternity and group dinners.

Reunion Dinner

On Friday morning there will be a general meeting of graduates' societies, and in the afternoon the University sports at the Molson stadium, with a big reunion dinner in the evening. The Saturday morning meetings with the various faculties will follow, and the bill, the proceedings concluding in the afternoon with a football match between McGill University and its old rival, the University of Toronto.

Notifications of attendance from nearly a thousand graduates and students from the four corners of the earth have already been received by W. D. McLennan, the executive secretary of the Graduates' Society, McGill University, and these are being added to daily, so that the 1926 reunion is likely to be as big a success as that which marked the centenary of the birth of James McGill, the founder of the university.

Archbishop Matheson Wants British Settlers

REGINA, Sept. 20.—A strong plea for the fostering of immigration from the British Isles, coupled with words of unstinted praise for the sterling qualities of immigrants from countries other than Great Britain, was contained in the charge of the Archbishop of Rupertland, the Most Rev. A. P. Matheson, Primate of all Canada, to the convocation of Anglican Bishops, ministers and laymen, gathered here for the meeting of the synod of the archiepiscopal province of Rupertland.

"RING OF NIBELUNG" TOLD IN LECTURE

Mrs. S. MacLure Tells of Wagner's
Great Work in Recital
Tonight

The lecture-recital is for Victoria a most unusual entertainment. Although in larger cities they are most popular just before the opening of the opera season. In New York it is Damrosch himself who gives the lecture-recital each year on Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung." Wagner considered this opera his masterpiece. In such a gigantic work that it is only with long study that one could begin to comprehend it, although one would easily recognize in it a picture of the world as it is today. The whole course of the drama shows the necessity of recognizing the change, the diversity, the multiplicity, the eternal newness of reality and life and yielding place to them.

Victorians will be given an opportunity to hear a lecture-recital on this most interesting and worth-while opera, "The Ring of the Nibelung," tonight in the New Thought Temple, when Mrs. S. MacLure will describe each of the four operas, "The Rheingold," "The Valkyrie," "Siegfried," and "The Dusk of the Gods." Illustrating on the piano the leading themes, motifs and songs in each.

IS SUPPORTER OF CURTIS POINT SITE

Canip Visitor Stays by Municipally-Owned Property—Offers Two Suggestions

One of the enthusiasts for the re-creation of a municipal camp at Curtis Point is Mr. G. S. Rodd, of Los Angeles, who, with Mrs. Rodd, has just left for home after a lengthy stay at the local automobile camp. He says the city is very fortunate to have the option to purchase such a fine site, containing that seventy-five per cent of the motor tourists prefer to stay in a publicly-owned camp. He believes the camp wants sewer facilities and permanent cabins to make it fit for any emergency. With these two improvements, Mr. Rodd, who made his second visit this season, declares that the camp would be unsurpassed.

In conversation with tourists in general Mr. Rodd thought that there is not enough advertising with regard to Victoria outside the surrounding territory of the Pacific Northwest and he maintains, further, that in comparison with similar services elsewhere, ferry rates to the island are high.

Mr. Rodd throughout his stay has been one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the Curtis Point camp, according to Mr. W. H. Hadley, the camp manager.

COMPTROLLER WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

City Will Be Represented at Canadian Tax Conference to Be Held in Winnipeg

City Comptroller D. A. MacDonald has been appointed to represent the city at the Canadian tax conference to be held in Winnipeg, commencing September 23. This was decided upon when a reconsideration of the Council's decision in the matter was asked for by the finance committee, following the receipt of two resolutions to this effect from the Real Estate Board and the Chamber of Commerce.

It was pointed out by the City Council last evening by Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, and Alderman Holmes, that this was a most important conference, which dealt chiefly with taxation questions. They believed that the city comptroller would secure valuable information from this conference that would help the city to deal with its tax questions.

In adopting the finance committee's report, the city granted the allowance of $25 a month to the city wiring inspector for the use of his car for city purposes, and authorized that the sum of $250 be paid Mr. A. V. Macan, the remaining portion of his bill for work on the Elk Lake golf course.

Mr. J. McEl. Muirhead was appointed as acting city comptroller in the absence of Mr. MacDonald.

Gas-Poisoned in Parked Car With Engine Going

SASKATOON, Sept. 20.—Death from carbon monoxide poisoning was the verdict of a coroner's jury at Blaine Lake, Saturday, in the case of Gordon Moffat, sixteen, and Miss Grace Gerlich, nineteen, found dead in the back seat of a sedan car one mile west of Blaine Lake, ten days ago. The two were returning from a dance on the farm of the boy's uncle, and the evidence showed, had parked the car and left the engine running.

Undeclared Lightweight Champion Figures That Tunney Will Be Target for This Punch—Gene Finishes Training Today With Bout With Delaney —Jack Not Worried Over Injunctions

Finish Training Today

Jack Dempsey will have his last workout today for what I think will be his last fight. It's an important battle of his entire career.

Over in Stroudsburg, Gene Tunney, who has been training Dempsey, is a little less enthusiastic. Tunney is a little less enthusiastic because he is a little less enthusiastic about the physical condition. They are both confident of winning. Two confident of winning.

The scoring was generally low today, with all but two of the outstanding favorites placing among the thirty-two qualifiers, who will begin the first round of thirty-six holes match play tomorrow.

Bill Melhorn, of Chicago, missed out by three strokes. Cyril Walker, former open champion, also was outside the match playing fold with a card of 156.

lifer channel and with 11,000 Sunday afternoon. She reached a point two miles off St. Margaret's Bay, after swimming ten hours and fifty-one minutes from Cape Gris-Naz. Her trainer realized it was a hopeless task for the girl because of the coldness of the water and urged her to give up, but she would not. At last her attendants, fearing a collapse and a tragedy, lassoed her arms and removed her half-conscious from the water.

Mrs. J. H. Stevens was the winner of the Colwood ladies' A class monthly competition by finishing the round one up. Mrs. H. S. Crowe won the B class, being one down on the eighteen holes. The monthly A class round went to Mrs. R. L. Pocock with a net 82. Mrs. W. W. Hall, with a net 79, took first place in the B class round.

CORONACH WINS MOST ON ENGLISH TRACKS

Year's Winning of Chestnut Colt Belonging to Lord Woolavington Are Over $120,000

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Through the great performance of his chestnut colt, Coronach, winner of the Epsom Derby and recognized three-year-old champion of the year on the British turf, Lord Woolavington has jumped to the front as the highest money-winning owner, as well as the most successful breeder so far this season. Coronach has won four races with a total stake value of £37,614, more than the winnings of any other complete stable. In addition, three other horses carrying Lord Woolavington's colors have won three races each, which boost the stable's winnings to £37,300.

This total may be substantially increased before the season ends for Coronach is a heavy favorite for the classic St. Leger, concluding three-year-old test of the year which carries an approximate value of £10,000. Lord Woolavington's only rival as a money winner is Lord Derby, who has bred thirteen horses that won nineteen races valued at £27,545.

Among the trainers, P. Darling tops the list, having trained eighteen horses that won £41,802 in twenty-nine races. The jockeys are led by T. Weston, with fifty starts, while the famous Steve Donoghue is fifth with thirty-seven winners.

Famous Battles for the Heavyweight Title

By the Associated Press

Jim Jeffries knocked out Bob Fitzsimmons before a crowd of 10,000 at Coney Island in eleven rounds, June 2, 1913. William S. Devery, police chief, was present to stop the bout "after the first hard blow."

Jeffries, manifestly in trouble in the seventh, came back to win with a left to the jaw, followed by a right. The 37-year-old Fitzsimmons, opposed a juvenile of 25, tried to make it a short fight, realizing that his victory must come early in the game or not at all.

The contestants did not weigh in and when Fitzsimmons said he scaled 157 pounds, Jeffries announced his weight at 148. He was probably close to 212. It was announced before the battle that the moving picture machine was in fine working order, and would prove a success. "Kid" McCoy was disgusted with the whole performance, saying it lacked science.

Interviewed after the bout, Jeffries declared: "I believe I am the best man in the world." Chief Devery said after the eleven rounds that everything was "all right."

UPLANDS WIN HANDILY FROM NANAIMO GOLFERS

Uplands golfers won a decisive victory over Nanaimo in the interclub match played at the Uplands Golf Club on Sunday. In the singles the home team secured 19½ points against 4½ by the up-Island team. Owing to Nanaimo not being able to field a full team, two members of the local club were loaned to complete the pairing. The results were as follows:

Two Swimmers Fail to Cross English Channel

DOVER, England, Sept. 20.—Miss Mona MacLennan abandoned her Channel attempt this afternoon. She was taken from the water when a mile off the Dover pier at 7:53 o'clock this evening after swimming for twenty-five hours and twenty minutes, the longest time that any woman has ever stayed in the Channel. Miss MacLennan is a resident of Hythe, and a physician.

BRITISH AUTHOR RAPS STEERAGE CONDITIONS

Woman Writer Travels Among Immigrants to Study Treatment Given Them

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Mrs. C. A. Dawson-Scott, English author and founder of the P.E.N. movement, which aims to bring about a better international understanding through a world league of writers, arrived in New York on the White Star liner Olympic recently.

Mrs. Scott, who is the widow of the former physician to the royal household of England, came to America in the steerage, in order, she says, to find out at first hand what conditions were like for immigrants in this country. She felt that if she let it be known that she was coming, she might be treated differently by the Customs officials. "I am glad that I did this," she said yesterday, "as conditions are just as bad as can be imagined. No distinction is made by the Customs officials between emigrants and visitors, and the low-fare passengers are forced to submit to a physical examination which the supposedly more hygienic upper-deck passengers escape. But there are more interesting people, more real human beings, down below. The trip was most enjoyable."

Mrs. Scott reported that there are now twenty-eight centers or branches of the P.E.N. Club in as many countries, although the movement is less than five years old. With John Galsworthy, president of the English branch, Mrs. Scott attended the organization's international conference in Berlin at which French and German delegates sat side by side for the first time since the war to lay plans for the bringing about a better understanding between the peoples of each country. She said that the next international conference would be in Brussels, in May, at which time the famous Belgian national hero, Burgomaster Max, would welcome the German and Austrian writers.

"3 BAD MEN" MAKE GOOD AT CAPITOL

Gripping Story of U.S. Land Rush in 70's Fascinates Crowds With Picturesque Realism

The epic photodrama, "Three Bad Men," Fox Films story of the opening of the Indian lands for white settlement in the early '70's, had its first showing at the Capitol Theatre last night.

From the first title to the last fade-out this picture held the attention of the audience by its masterly portrayal of one of the most glamorous and adventurous epochs of American history. Against a vast background of mountains, deserts and plains, and amid the struggle of thousands of settlers for the best of the virgin lands is woven a drama that holds an interest seldom equaled. For probably never before have such strangely different characters captured the hearts in such strange circumstances.

Bully, Card Sharp and Hustler
Here is a real story of two young pioneers, the orphaned Lee Carleton, played by Olive Borden, and foot-loose Dan O'Malley, played by George O'Brien. And guiding and watching over them like the fates themselves are the "Three Bad Men," the bully, the card sharp and the hustler. Here again three of the best known characters actors of the screen give three of the most convincing portrayals conceivable, because these three are J. Farrell MacDonald, Tom Santschi and Frank Campeau.

The mushroom town of Custer on the edge of the virgin lands is reproduced with historic fidelity, together with the typical characters of the times.

Best Known Stars
These characters are played by some of the best known stars of today. In fact, Lou Tellegen plays the part of the suave but ruthless gambler, Layne Hunter, while Jay Hunt, who starred in "Lightnin'," makes a telling picture as the old prospector. Another star who captured the hearts of the audience was Alice B. Francis, who made such a tremendous success as the minister in "Thank You." Again he plays the part of a man of God, but in very different circumstances.

Nor is comedy lacking, for George Harris, the diminutive English comedian, who played the part of Joe Minsk, and Otto Harlan, who is the printer and editor of a pioneer newspaper, furnish plenty of laughs.

Others in the cast are Priscilla Bonner, Grace Gordon, George Irving and Walter Perry. John Ford, who gained fame with "The Iron Horse," has added greatly to his reputation by his direction of "Three Bad Men."

THOS. MEIGHAN WINS IN "TIN GODS" FILM

Huge Cast of Screen Talent Supports Favorite in Feature at Dominion

"Tin Gods." The title's significant for more than its reason. Principally because it figures as a milestone in Thomas Meighan's career.

The picture had its first showing yesterday at the Dominion Theatre, and an immense audience was introduced to a brand new Tom Meighan.

Aiding and abetting him in his efforts is a huge cast headed by the featured players, Alice Francis, and Renee Adoree, William Powell, Hal Hamilton and John Harrington. Allan Dwan directed. William Anthony McGuire is the author of the play from which it is adapted by Paul Dickey and Howard Emmett Rogers.

Love and Politics
Imagine the story of a man who marries a beautiful woman. She loves him, but also has a passion for politics. Time passes and soon she has forgotten her first love for the second. A child comes, but she continues to spend her time away from home. Then one day, the little boy passes on. After a terrible argument, the husband packs his bags and rushes to South America.

At a small town which has sprung up because of the sale of a bridge, he finds solace in rum. Losing his position as engineer in charge of the structure, he sinks deeper and deeper. Sickness comes, but he is nursed back to health by a native girl.

Wife Reappears
Days pass and then—like a wind from the North, the wife reappears. Misunderstanding his eagerness at seeing her, the second girl, whom he really loves, hastens away to kill herself. He learns of her intention and follows—too late.

The picture ends, as it began, showing him enter a chapel he has built under the bridge to the memory of his life's one beautiful love. Here's drama that pierces the emotions. And when you see it you'll never—oh, what's the use? See "Tin Gods."

COLISEUM A capacity house last night greeted Mr. Hedmond's reproduction of the famous romantic drama, "Pollyanna," and judging by its enthusiastic reception at the initial performance, together with the fact that the Solarium Fund will benefit substantially by this offering, the Coliseum Theatre should be the centre of theatregoing all this week. The entire cast fill their parts with consummate ease. Alex Wiers, as John Dendition, fills this rather heavy role admirably, while Miss Marie McLaughlin as "Pollyanna the Glad Girl" takes this particularly appealing part in a delightful and most natural manner.

COLUMBIA "Over the Hill," the re-issued William Fox feature photoplay that swept New York off its feet for a run of a solid year on Broadway, was shown last night at the Columbia Theatre. The local showing, which had been awaited with keen interest, proved beyond the shadow of doubt that "Over the Hill" is all that New York friends declared it to be, and judging from many comments on its first screening here, it is still one of the biggest hits that Victorians have ever enjoyed.

Programme

Great interest centres in the Wag-

Ring of the Nibelung," which Wagner considered to be his greatest work, is to be the subject, Mrs. Maclure, during her residence in Germany as a student, having heard the opera many times.

She will open her lecture with a brief detailed description of Wagner's theories, and after that will deal with the "Ring" itself in three episodes, playing the leading motifs and the big climatic passages, and eventually trying to show the analogy between Greek tragedy and the Ring. The subject will be treated in concise and simple form under the three following heads:

GOOD TEMPLARS' GRAND LODGE MEETS

Annual Convention Is Held in Vancouver—Election of Officers Takes Place

To the long list of conventions held in the city of Vancouver from time to time should be added the annual convention of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, International Order of Good Templars, which commenced its forty-fifth annual session Saturday in the Swedish Community Hall, under the presidency of Brother J. Carlson, Grand Chief Templar.

This year saw the seating of more delegates than has been the case for many years, owing to the increased enthusiasm among the Good Templars of the Province.

In his annual report the Grand Chief Templar congratulated the grand lodge upon the healthy state of the order, stressing the fact that the temperance cause was gaining strength every day as a result of the Province of B.C. impoverishing itself by the spending of large sums of money which, he said, ought to be spent in other channels. The present state of affairs, he averred, was uniting the temperance forces into a united army for the total suppression of the traffic.

Grand Secretary F. T. Harrison reported a generous increase in the number of lodges and membership. An impressive memorial service was held during the day for the late Brother Sampel Gough, grand treasurer, and Brother Captain C. W. Whittaker, past grand chief templar, who died from drowning a few weeks ago.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Deputy International chief templar, Bro. J. Fletcher, Vancouver; grand chief templar, Bro. J. Carlson, Vancouver; grand vice-templar, Sister J. Johnston, Vancouver; grand treasurer, Bro. C. Wilson, Nanaimo; grand secretary, Bro. F. T. Harrison, Vancouver; grand elect superintendent, Bro. J. Fletcher, Vancouver; grand superintendent, Bro. M. Storey, Nanaimo; grand superintendent, juvenile work, Sister P. Hoey, Nanaimo; grand chaplain, Sister C. Laing, Victoria; grand marshal, Sister E. Ward, Nanaimo; grand councillor, Bro. W. J. Brown, Nanaimo; grand messenger, Sister M. Cottle, Nanaimo; grand assistant secretary, Sister E. R. Dufford, Vancouver; grand guard, Bro. Hans Mykine, Newton; grand sentinel, Bro. C. Gille, Vancouver; grand past chief templar, Bro. A. Malander, Vancouver; grand deputy marshal, Sister S. Wangie, Nanaimo.

In the evening the officers and members of Linnia Lodge No. 76 entertained the grand lodge to a banquet at which the new grand lodge officers made speeches in recognition of their election to office. A musical programme was given and a presentation of a fountain pen to Bro. P. Christensen of Linnia Lodge No. 76 for securing the most new members during the year.

The next annual meeting will be held in Victoria.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "Ironized Yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "Ironized Yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Hold by druggists at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package, or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Port Erie, Ontario, Canada. (Adv.)

AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Mrs. Dayman Gives Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the Credit

Colborne, Ontario.—"When I was first married I was very thin and weak. The doctor said I was weak and would never be able to have a child, but I did, and from the time my baby came I suffered all the time and took medicine. Life became a burden, and doctors said an operation could help me, but my husband was opposed to that. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine advertised, so I told my husband that I thought I would try it, that I might get some relief. I had not taken one bottle when I could feel it helping me. I took five bottles and had better health. Now I have three girls and a boy and have done my work up to confinement. I am now at the Change of Life and owe my good health to Lydia E. ## SECOND INDUSTRIES FAIR IS ORGANIZING

British Overseas Trade Department Announces Dates for Two Sections Next Spring

The British Government Department of Overseas Trade announces that the British Industries Fair will be held next year in London and Birmingham, at the White City and Castle Bromwich Aerodrome, respectively, from February 21 to March 4, inclusive.

As in previous years, the Fair in London, organized by the Department of Overseas Trade, will be devoted to such trades as china, earthenware and stoneware, sports goods, chemicals and drugs, brushware, textiles, etc., while the Birmingham exhibition, organized by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, will be devoted to machinery and mechanical appliances, hardware, guns, saddlery, harness, etc. A feature of the Fair in London is the inclusion of an Empire section and the display of Canadian and other Empire products.

The last Fair was an undoubted success, and the response to date to the invitation to exhibit in 1927 is such that the number of exhibitors at last year's Fair is likely to be largely exceeded, and visitors to the Fair are assured of finding a fully representative display of the various trades participating.

As doubt may be entertained as to the ability of manufacturers in the Old Country to meet the demands of overseas markets, it may be said that, despite the difficulties arising from recent industrial troubles, manufacturers in the United Kingdom have succeeded in the main in carrying on successfully and production and delivery have not been noticeably impaired.

Admission to the Fair is by invitation cards, which may be obtained by trade buyers from the British Trade Commissioner, 15 Commerce Building, Vancouver.

PRISON TERM OF ONE YEAR GIVEN

Magistrate Jay Imposes Sentence Upon H. E. Braley, Who Pleaded Guilty on Theft Charge

One year's imprisonment was the sentence imposed by Magistrate George Jay yesterday in the city police court on Herbert E. Braley, who pleaded guilty to the theft of $1,193.47 from the Walter F. Evans Company between January 1 and September 17, 1926.

When the case was called on for remand, City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison told the court the circumstances of the offence. The accused had been employed, he said, by the music house from January 1, 1926, being bookkeeper of the concern as well as collector of accounts. Since that date he had made collections from between 100 and 200 people, the amounts obtained ranging from $3 to $75. Three payments on account had been kept by the accused for his own use, he continued.

Mr. Sidney Child, attorney for the accused, Braley, submitted to the court certain letters of reference which his client had received prior to coming to Victoria.

"This is the first time that the accused has been in trouble," Mr. Child said. "He is not a young man. He served overseas, and has a wife and small child. Some of the money in question was used by him in speculation."

Two witnesses, testifying to the accused's character, were called by the defence. Mr. Alexander McInnes, electrical plater, said he had known Braley for three years, that he had found him very respectable, and that he had always had a high reputation.

Mr. Archie Brooks, steelworker, testified that he had been acquainted with the accused since 1913, and had always regarded his character as the very best.

Prosecutor Harrison inquired if witness knew how the accused had spent the stolen money.

"I think that the money was probably used in speculation in stocks and horse races," replied Mr. Brooks.

Mr. Harrison said that the accused had been in receipt of a monthly salary of $110 from the music house.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Jay said that he took into consideration the fact that the offence was the first that the accused had committed. A penitentiary term of many years could have been imposed, he declared.

Victoria Singer Has Gratifying Reception

Mr. Gideon Hicks and his daughter, Miss Beatrice Hicks, have returned to Victoria after a month's visit to the Okanagan Valley, during which they gave recitals at Vernon, Penticton, Summerland and Kelowna, making the last-mentioned their headquarters. Mr. Hicks, who was accompanied at the piano by his daughter, had a very flattering reception at each place. In addition to his concert work, he organized a vocal class at Kelowna, which proved so successful that he has been invited to return there next spring to coach competitors for the Okanagan Musical Festival, an annual event in the Valley which is splendidly supported by the various communities. At Kelowna he found a very flourishing men's chorus which won very high praise during the festival last spring. Mr. Hicks reopened his Victoria studio on Thursday and his Vancouver studio on Monday last. In Vancouver this season he has taken over part of Miss Lillian Wilson's class, she having left recently for London to join Mrs. Leo Chernivsky there.

OTHER COUNTRIES WANT GYRO CLUBS

MR. LOUGHEED RECOMMENDS CONCENTRATION OF EFFORTS ON THIS CONTINENT

Gyro International Chairman, on Visit to Victoria Club, Stresses Importance of Extension Work

Extension of the Gyro Club movement to include other countries is an item to be decided, according to Mr. Clarence Lougheed, International President of Gyro Clubs, who arrived in Victoria yesterday on an official visit to the local Gyro organization. Applications have been received from enthusiasts of the service club movement in London, Paris and Australia. While this problem will be met in due course, President Lougheed believes that in the meantime the International Gyro body should concentrate its endeavors in sections of this continent not yet included in Gyro.

President Lougheed was warmly welcomed by Victoria Gyro at the weekly luncheon session yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce. He said that he considered it was his duty to exemplify the meaning of Gyro's motto, "Gyro Means Friendship," by putting forth every effort to visit his Gyro friends in Canada and the United States, and he hoped that before the international convention next year in Denver, Colorado, he will have visited the sixty-four clubs in Gyro.

President Lougheed was warmly welcomed by Victoria Gyro at the weekly luncheon session yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce. He said that he considered it was his duty to exemplify the meaning of Gyro's motto, "Gyro Means Friendship," by putting forth every effort to visit his Gyro friends in Canada and the United States, and he hoped that before the international convention next year in Denver, Colorado, he will have visited the sixty-four clubs in Gyro.

The Light of Welcome

WELCOME your guests with light. Artistic lighting is essential to a well-decorated home. And it is so easily possessed. No other modern comfort is so cheap.

Every socket should have its proper size and type of lamp. Floor and table lamps do much to improve the artistic effect of the lighting. Bridge lamps should have large enough bulbs to give an adequate illumination.

For the sake of convenience, economy and better light—insist on genuine Edison Mazda Lamps.

"Beau Geste"

A Great Mystery Story

By PERCIVAL CHRISTOPHER WREN

George Lawrence, an Englishman, is travelling back to England, and on the platform at Kan he meets an old friend, Major de Beaujolais, an officer of the French Foreign Legion. The major then begins to tell the following story: A messenger arrived in the fort in which the major is stationed. He tells Beaujolais that the rescue with his men, on approaching the fort, he finds no Arabs. Everything is quiet, and there is no sign of the enemy. There is no sign of the enemy. There is no sign of the enemy.

After a dusty meal, impatiently swallowed by Major de Beaujolais, that gentleman resumed his story with serious earnestness and some gesticulation. While, on the opposite side of the carriage, George Lawrence lay upon his back, his hands clasped beneath his head, idly watching the smoke that curled up from his cheroot. But he was paying closer attention to the Frenchman's tale.

"But, of course, it soon occurred to me," continued that gentleman, "that someone must be alive."

Those corpses had not of themselves taken up those incredibly life-like attitudes. Whoever had propped them up and arranged them and their rifles in position must be alive.

"For, naturally, not all had been struck by Arab bullets and remained standing in the embrasures. Nine times out of ten, as you know, a man staggers back and falls when shot standing."

"Besides, what about the wounded? There is always a far bigger percentage of wounded than of killed in any engagement. Yes, there must be survivors, possibly all more or less wounded, below in the caserne."

"But surely one of them might have kept a look-out. Probably the Commandant and all the non-commissioned officers were killed."

"Even then, though, one would have expected the senior men—even if the survivors were all soldiers, deviousness to have taken that much ordinary military precaution!"

"Well, I would soon solve the problem, for my troop was approaching, my trumpeter with me. I was glad to note that my Sergeant-Major had evidently had a similar idea to mine, for, on coming in sight of the fort, he had opened out and skirled up in extended order—in spite of the bravely-flying flag."

"When my men arrived, I had the 'rouse,' the 'alarm,' the regimental call, sounded by the trumpeter—fully expecting, after each blast, that the gates would open, or at least that someone would come running up from below on to the roof."

"Not a sound nor a movement! Again and again, call after call. Not a sound nor a movement! 'Perhaps the last one or two are badly wounded,' thought I. 'There may not be a man able to crawl from his bed. The fellow who propped those corpses up may have been shot in the act, and be lying up there, or on his cot,' and I bade the trumpeter cease. Sending for the Chef, as we call the Sergeant-Major, I ordered him to knot camel-cords, sarries, girths, reins, anything, make a rope, and set an active fellow to climb from the back of a camel, into an embrasure, and give me a hoist up."

"That Sergeant-Major is one of the bravest and coolest men I have ever known, and his collection of fer-blancerie includes the Croix and the Medaille given on the field for valor. 'It is a trap, mon Commandant,' said he. 'One can't walk into it. Let me go.' Brave words—but he looked queer, and I knew that though he feared nothing living, he was afraid."

THE LAST BOARDER

Proprietor: "But, Madam, I would like to close the hotel!"

We watched and waited. I could see that the men were immensely puzzled and intrigued. Not an eye wandered. I would have given something to have known what each man thought concerning this unique experience. A perfectly silent fort, the walls fully manned, the flag flying—and the rates about—no vestige of a sign from that motionless garrison staring on into the desert, aiming their rifles at nothing—and at us.

We watched and waited. Two minutes passed; five, six, seven. What could it mean? Was it a trap after all?

"That one won't return!" said Rastignac loudly, and gave an eerie jarring laugh. The corporal smote him on the mouth, and I heard him growl, "What about a little 'repaudine' and a mouthful of sand, my friend?"

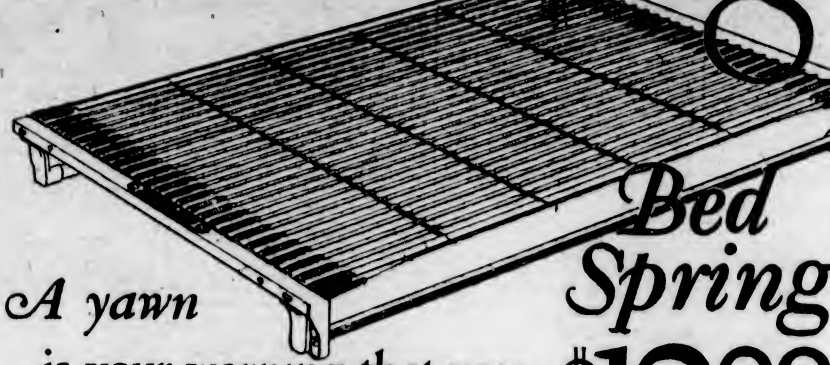

At the end of ten minutes a very mauveous quart d'heure, I beckoned the Sergeant-Major. I could stand the strain no longer.

"I am going in," said I. "I cannot send another man, although I ought to do so. Take command. If you do not see me within ten minutes, and nothing happens, assault the place. Burn down the gates and let a party climb the walls, while another charges in. Keep a half-train, under the corporal's reserve."

"Let me go, mon Commandant!" begged the Chef. "If you will not send another soldier, or call for a volunteer to go, suppose you..."

"Silence, Chef," he replied. "I am going."

trumpeter, I forgot my troop waiting without—for there was something else. Living on his back, his sightless eyes outstaring the sun—lay the Commandant, and through his heart a sword-bayonet with its single-curved hilt! No—he had not been shot, he was absolutely untouched elsewhere, and there he lay with a French bayonet through his heart. What do you say to that, my friend?"

"Suicide," replied Lawrence. And so did I until I realized that he had a loaded revolver in one hand, one chamber fired, and a crushed letter in the other! Once a man drive a bayonet through his heart, and then take a revolver in one hand and a sheet of paper in the other? I think not."

Have you ever seen a man drive a bayonet through his heart, my friend? Believe me, he does not fumble for letters, nor draw a revolver and fire it, after he has done that. No, he snaps, stares, staggers. He grips the handle and the force of the blade with both hands, totters, stretches convulsively, and collapses, crashing to the ground. In any case, does a man commit suicide with a bayonet when he has a loaded revolver? Suicide? Pout! Was it any wonder that my jaw dropped and I forgot all else as I stared and stared. Voyez done! A French fort in the Sahara besieged by Arabs. Every man killed at his post. The Arabs beaten off. The fort inviolate, untrodden by Arab foot. The gates closed. Within—the dead, and one of them slain by a French bayonet, while he held a loaded revolver in his hand! (To Be Continued)

FLORIDA DISASTER TROUBLES MARKET

APPREHENSION IS FELT COMPANY INTERESTED THERE MUST SELL HOLDINGS

Call Money Is Marked Up—Hudson Motor Earnings Cut in Half—Bonds Rotten

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Marking up the call money rate from 2 to 4 1/2 per cent, the highest since last April, and reports of tremendous property losses in the Florida disaster, caused heavy liquidation of stocks for both accounts in today's market. Scores of issues closed 1 to 3 points lower, despite repeated attempts to rally the list by bidding up General Motors, some of the Van Werting rails and a few selected specialties.

While few companies, whose stocks are listed on the exchange, were directly affected by the Florida disaster, the fact that various interested companies might be forced to sell a large volume of securities in order to pay their losses, naturally induced some liquidation.

Publication of the quarterly report of the Hudson Motor Car Company, showing $1.20 a share on the common stock as against $2.40 in the corresponding period of 1925, was another unfavorable stock market factor, that issue breaking nearly four points to 51 and then rallying to 52.

General Motors was bid up to a new record high of 15 1/2 for the present stock, closing a point below that figure for a net gain of 2 1/2 points on the day.

New record highs were established during the morning by Chesapeake & Ohio, at 17 1/2; Nickel Plate, 19 1/2; and Pere Marquette at 11 1/2, but only Nickel Plate was able to retain all its gain in the last selling movement.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. Stiffening call money rates around 100 per cent, and the increasing fear of currency advance in Poland, reserve discount charges turned the trend of bond prices downward today. Trading was dull, with buying interest at a low ebb, and the credit uncertainty, the unavailability of the stock market, and the huge property loss resulting from the Florida hurricane disaster.

BANQUET PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

North Saanich Social Club Holds Its Second Annual Banquet on Saturday Evening

NORTH SAANICH, Sept. 20.—The second annual banquet given by the North Saanich Social Club was held in the clubrooms, School Crossroads, on Saturday evening, and was most successful. The hall was filled to capacity, the many members and their guests coming from North and South Saanich, Sidney, Deep Cove and Victoria, promptly at 7 o'clock sat down to the beautifully laden tables, which were efficiently catered to by the ladies' committee, under the supervision of Mrs. M. L. Carter.

The hall had been decorated for the occasion by Misses Annie and Katy Lorenzen, and Messrs. Williams and Reg. Beswick, with streamers of blue and yellow crepe paper, and festoons of cedar boughs. The tables looked very pretty, with decorations of blue and yellow ruffled crepe paper, and bouquets of autumn flowers. The waitresses, Misses Betty Norbury, Gladys Ricketts, Dorothy Carter, Lillian Nunn, Molly Clarke, Lottie Richardson, Lillian Tuttle and Sylvia Gorton, under the direction of Mrs. Tuttle, in their blue dresses and crisp yellow aprons, were attractive.

During the dinner the members and guests were entertained by a programme of songs, speeches and songs. After the toast to the King had been honored, Mr. W. R. Woods sang a solo, "Thou," and as an encore sang about the troubles of Percy Wilson and family in that old song, "Hang Out the Latch Door Key." The toast to the guests was next proposed by Mr. George Clarke, who called on Mrs. A. Brown, who responded. Miss Muriel Crawford then sang sweetly two solos: "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "Always."

The toast to the club was proposed by Dr. Clem Davies. This toast was responded to by Capt. E. Wilson, the president, who then called on Father Sheehan to propose a toast to the ladies. This was followed by a few words from Mrs. M. Carter, the vice-president, and capably responded to by Miss Winnifred Eatt. An interesting talk on sportsmanship was given by Mr. J. T. Taylor, at the conclusion of which he presented Master Clifford Hill, the best athlete at the North Saanich School during the past year, with the silver Challenge Cup donated by David Spencer, Limited. The Challenge Shield, donated by the Standard Steam Laundry, was won by the Patricia Bay tug-of-war team. The camera, donated by the MacFarlane Drug Company, was presented to Miss Sylvia Gorton, the best athlete at the North Saanich School during the past year. First prize ribbons won by the various children at the recent club picnic were presented to Joan Bach, Helen Storey, Sylvia Gorton, Wilfred Hill, Molly Clarke, Peter Ricketts, Clifford Hill, Iain Wilson and Jimmie Lorenzen.

Mr. Robert Sloan then gave an interesting address, introducing in his speech several poems of his own writing. Community singing followed.

At the termination of the dinner the tables were cleared away and dancing was indulged in, the music being supplied by a beautiful Orthographic gramophone, which had been loaned by David Spencer, Limited.

TAX DELINQUENTS TO BE PROSECUTED

Drive Against Law Violators to Be Launched After September 29—Final Warning Given

Announcement is made by the Provincial Taxation Department officials that a drive against all British Columbia taxpayers who have failed to submit tax returns this year will be launched after September 29. Up to that date, however, persons who have failed to make returns or who have made false returns will be given the last opportunity to obey the requirements of the Taxation Act.

Those returns are due in general on March 31 of each year. Full reports of all delinquents have been received at the taxation office here from all the assessors throughout the Province and instructions have already gone out to prosecute without exception all those remaining in default after September 29, in either the matter of making returns or of having made incorrect returns.

This involves summary trial before a police magistrate and conviction renders the taxpayer liable to penalties up to $500. Those taxpayers who make misleading statements and do not report their full income are subject to greater penalties, as such an act upon their part is regarded as a serious violation of the statute. It is the duty of the taxpayer to make his returns without any request or notice from the assessor. The necessary forms may be obtained upon application to any Provincial assessor.

DR. WEYER PREACHES FOR DIAMOND JUBILEE

Prominent Tacoma Presbyterian Minister Opens N. Andrew's Week's Celebration Here

Preaching at the Sunday services which featured the opening day's celebration of the diamond jubilee of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Weyer, of the First Presbyterian Church, Tacoma, chose for his morning theme, "The Church," and for his evening theme, "The Things Most Certainly Believed Among us" (Luke 1:3). His congregations were present on each occasion, and the choir sang special music, in the morning "The Church," and in the evening, "The Things Most Certainly Believed Among us."

During his morning sermon on the text: "Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone," Dr. Weyer expanded his subject under the sub-titles of "The Church," "Its Divine Origin," "Its Divine Mission," and "Its Divine Authority," emphasizing the history and contribution of the Presbyterian Church to world civilization and general progress.

During his evening sermon on the text: "The things most certainly believed among us," Dr. Weyer pointed out, were the inspiration of the Bible, the virgin birth, involving the deity of our Lord, the cure of sin; and the Christian's endurance for service.

Dr. Kerry, an outstanding scholar, scientist, and professor of John Hopkins University, in reply to a question as to how he remained unwavering in his belief, when so many of the men he had passed through his classes had developed a materialistic theory, had made the following reply: "In the first place I do not usually discuss this question either with ministers or scientists, and after that he had given his reasons for not wanting to discuss evolution with either of these groups as being that they knew so little about it, they might be masters of their own particular sphere, but in order to discuss intelligently the question of evolution one must know all science. And his own researches had led him to guard the Bible as more than a human production, but divinely inspired, and the only infallible rule that man had both for faith and for practice."

Hudson's Bay Property Suffers Fire Damage

A carelessly thrown match or cigarette is assumed to have been the cause of a fire which did considerable damage to fences and small trees along Cedar Hill Cross Road, just west of Pinnery Bay Road, on Sunday afternoon. Reported first to Constable Brown, of the Saanich Police, the fire was found to be just inside the Oak Bay municipality area, and No. 8 Fire Station apparatus was summoned to the scene. It took them nearly four hours to subdue the flames, which had spread across the stubble field and threatened the considerable forest adjoining Pinnery Bay Road. The property belongs to the Hudson's Bay Company.
